

SAYS SHORTAGE OF MEN WAS NAVY'S INITIAL HANDICAP

Testimony Given by Chief of Bureau of Navigation

START SECOND INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(By The Associated Press.)—Chief of the bureau of navigation during the war was responsible for obtaining and distributing officers and men, testified today a shortage of personnel was the American navy's initial handicap in the war.

He told the senate committee investigating Rear-Admiral Sims' charges against the navy department that Secretary Daniels was responsible for the alleged shortage because of his "procrastination" prior to this country's entry in the conflict.

Mr. Daniels opposed the building up of a strong naval reserve before the war, Captain Palmer asserted, altho naval officers had warned the secretary that after the war was declared it would be too late to train men.

The secretary, however, always favored recruiting for the regular navy and after war was declared did everything to stimulate it, the witness said. He added, "this however, was very different from the policy Mr. Daniels adopted toward the reserve."

Illustrating what he declared was a refusal by Secretary Daniels to look forward to the navy's tremendous war time expansion, Captain Palmer cited the construction of barracks at the Great Lakes Training Station.

After Secretary Daniels had agreed to act on his recommendation Captain Palmer said he ordered the barracks built and then told congress about it. Later, an even greater expansion was necessary, he said.

Captain Palmer said he could not agree with Mr. Daniels primarily because the secretary could not see things from the viewpoint of the naval man.

Take Up Fletcher's Removal.
Washington, March 25.—Investigation of the reasons for removal of Rear-Admiral W. B. Fletcher from command of the American naval base at Brest was begun today before a naval court of inquiry.

Counsel for Rear-Admiral Sims, who removed Admiral Fletcher, insisted that the court consider a request that Secretary Daniels enlarge the scope of the inquiry to cover all circumstances surrounding the handling of American vessels in French waters. Secretary Daniels refused on the ground that his instructions covered a sweeping investigation as drawn.

Most testimony introduced at the first session was documentary. In a letter to Secretary Daniels, Admiral Sims denied he removed Admiral Fletcher because of the loss of the transport Antilles, declaring he had reached that decision sometime before when he had learned that on two occasions transports were permitted to start back without adequate convoy.

The sinking of the Antilles, he wrote, led him to decide, however, to remove Admiral Fletcher. Testifying in his own behalf, Admiral Fletcher charged that Admiral Sims in his orders did not lay down specific rules as to convoy formations and the minimum protection that should be accorded vessels off the French coast. The first direction he received, he said, was given verbally and in a "very general way," by Lieutenant-Commander Daniels, Admiral Sims' aid when he visited Brest in August 1917.

Despite the difficulty of adequately protecting troops and supply transports with the small force of destroyers and yachts at his disposal, the admiral said, this force had been used to the best possible advantage.

MATCH CAUSES FIRE
At 6 o'clock Thursday morning the fire department was called to the residence of J. Herman, 214 South Church street.

The maid on arising at that hour found the electric light in her room was out of order. She struck a match and the burning head landed on top of the dresser and set fire to the cover. In a moment the entire top of the dresser was in flames, the combs, brushes and mirrors, which were of celluloid, catching fire.

All of the articles on top of the dresser were either burned or damaged and the heat was so intense that it cracked the large mirror. No other damage was done.

MINERS WRANGLE ALL DAY OVER FRAUDS IN THEIR LAST ELECTION

Farrington Replies to Eight
Hour Speech by Defeated
Candidate

PEORIA, Ill., March 25.—"I am losing ground," said President Frank Farrington, before the state mine workers convention here this afternoon in reply to Frank Hefferly, defeated presidential candidate, who occupied eight hours in making charges of fraudulent counting of votes in the last race. The wrangle over the alleged fraud occupied all of today's sessions. It will carry over until tomorrow.

Frank H. Hefferly, defeated candidate who is making the charges finished an eight hour tirade against Farrington today. Farrington replied in a half hour talk.

"I am not going to indulge in personalities and I am not going to attack Mr. Hefferly's character; I don't believe he has any," Farrington said. He made no denial that votes from Springfield and Springfield Valley locals had been tampered with.

"But by whom we don't know," he said.

John T. Jones, a member of the district auditor's body, which signed the vote report without making a report of the alleged tampering, was scored for telling Hefferly that twenty seven local returns had been tampered with. "I am losing ground," Farrington concluded. "The plan of those opposing me is to throw so much mud at me that some will stick. In time enough will stick to weigh me down. I see it coming. No man can stand forever the abuse and vilification heaped on me since I have become president of this organization."

John T. Jones will take the floor tomorrow morning in his own defense.

REV. A. F. EWERT HEARD IN MEMPHIS CHURCH

Newspaper Made Complimentary
Notice of White Hall Pastor's Sermon.

Rev. A. F. Ewert, pastor of the Presbyterian church at White Hall, is frequently called upon to work in other localities. This has been particularly true since the days that Mr. Ewert engaged so successfully in Liberty Loan work. Recently he was in Memphis, Tenn., to assist in a special evangelistic service.

The Memphis Commercial Appeal in making reference to this service had the following paragraphs:

Rev. Frederick Ewert, former army chaplain, preached a large audience last night at First Presbyterian Church. It was one of the most eloquent and impressive sermons heard in Memphis in a long time.

The chaplain is an orator of tremendous power, and is a finished scholar. His appeal is to the reason, and through the reason to the heart.

His opening sermon was from the text, "And God formed man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul." The capacity of the First Church will, it is believed, be taxed by the audiences who will be there to hear Mr. Ewert.

He is already known in Memphis, where he did notable work during the Fifth Liberty Loan campaign. His service in the front line of battle with the United States army has given him a knowledge of the way to reach men, which should be of great aid in his usefulness as a minister in God's church.

DESCRIBES CHAOS IN INDUSTRIAL CITIES OF SAXONY

Law and Order Slowly Emerging from Recent Disorders

STRIKES ARE CALLED OFF

Gotha - Saxa - Coburg - Gotha, March 24.—(By The Associated Press.)—Order is slowly emerging from the chaos of the last ten days in the industrial centers of Saxony. Workmen are capitulating and calling off the strike and the military is taking over control of the cities.

Strikers, who for several days held the upper hand in Gotha, laid down their arms today. The last week will return tomorrow. Fighting has been going on continuously since March 17. It is estimated 90 persons were killed and several hundred wounded.

A wall in the room of a leading hotel where The Associated Press correspondent wrote this dispatch was pierced by bullets from the daily fusillade.

When news of the military coup at Berlin was received the workmen here, as elsewhere, struck. The workmen offered to cooperate with the police to guard the city. They consulted the major commanding the garrison. He declared that the soldiers would support Dr. Wolfgang Knapp and proclaimed martial law. He sent to Erfurt for reinforcements.

Workmen from munition plants began to converge on Gotha, having seized arms and several armored cars. The forces engaged in fighting after the workmen had killed two soldiers who interfered with a boy tearing down the martial law proclamation. The workmen were strong enough to expel the small garrison. According to one leader they realized they could not resist successfully a massed attack by the soldiers coming from Erfurt and yielded to avoid further bloodshed. Their opponents admit that the workmen did not attempt to interfere with municipal authorities or establish a government. There is not talk whatever of a soviet. The correspondent visited today every trouble point between Leipzig and Gotha. There exists apparently only one issue, military control.

Workers announce as their principal demands abolition of martial law and recreation of the civil guard to replace Noske's reactionary army.

In the country there are still a few small bands of armed workmen. One stopped The Associated Press automobile at Naumburg. They said they had heard that four of their number had been captured by troops and executed today because they refused to give information concerning the whereabouts of their comrades.

On entering Naumburg the correspondent passed a squad of cavalry setting out to clear up that band. Later he overtook several soldiers bringing in two captive workmen. Considerable fighting has occurred at Naumburg where strikers entrenched themselves in the fortress from which they were dislodged only after the garrison had been reinforced. Historical old Weimar did not escape the disorders. Several workmen were killed but there was little property damage. All is quiet there now.

The many troops at Erfurt prevented an outbreak. When the patrol halted The Associated Press car to inspect credentials, a Prussian officer observing an American flag on the radiator exclaimed:

"You are in Germany now, not in America."

He plucked the flag out, handed it to the chauffeur and stalked angrily away.

Owing to the non-appearance of the newspapers, the workmen in remote districts, and even residents in large towns, are ignorant of the new developments. There is almost every industrial town has witnessed disturbances, there is no doubt that the reports sent out have been grossly exaggerated. This is particularly true of Halle. Students joined the troops. Workmen were surrounded and corralled near the center of the town. The soldiers trained mine throwers on the buildings they occupied but no mine was fired. The city suffered little damage. There were probably no more than 100 casualties.

GEORGE W. SCOTT WILL MANAGE INDIANA HOTEL

MacFarland Hotel in Connersville, Ind., Acquired by Mr. Brennan and Mr. Scott—Beginning of Move to Get Chain of Hotels.

Announcement was made yesterday that E. A. Brennan and George W. Scott of the New Pacific Hotel Company had acquired control of the MacFarland Hotel in Connersville, Indiana.

The deal has been in progress for some time and both men have been in Connersville several times in connection with the purchase. Mr. Brennan is at present in the Indiana city and notified Mr. Scott Thursday that the deal had been consummated.

Mr. Scott will leave probably Saturday night for Connersville to assume active management of the property. Mrs. Scott will accompany him but will remain only a short time. She will then return to this city where Mr. Scott expects to retain his residence. He will also retain his interest in the New Pacific of which he has been secretary for several years.

Both Mr. Brennan and Mr. Scott are known to hotel men and the traveling fraternity all over the United States. Mr. Brennan was practically raised in the hotel business. He started as a bell boy in the St. Nicholas Hotel in Springfield where he rapidly advanced. For some years he was day clerk there and then served in like capacity at the Old Leland hotel.

He came to Jacksonville with Harry Richardson about sixteen years ago and purchased the Pacific hotel. With the exception of an interval of about a year he has since been in control of that property.

Mr. Scott also began his hotel career in the New Pacific as night clerk. That was eight years ago. He was advanced to the position of day clerk. When the Douglas was opened by Ballard & Johnson he assumed the management of that hotel.

After a year there he returned to the New Pacific when it was reorganized and was elected secretary of the new company. Mr. Scott is considered one of the best hotel men in the country and is known from coast to coast for his unfailing courtesy to the traveling public. His many friends will regret to see him leave Jacksonville but will wish him success in his new venture.

The MacFarland hotel is a four-story structure and is an up-to-date hotel in every respect. Connersville is a thriving manufacturing city with twenty-five factories. Among them are the MacFarland Six and Lexington automobile plants.

Since Mr. Brennan and Mr. Scott have been in charge of the New Pacific they have increased the patronage until it has far outgrown the capacity of the hotel.

The purchase of the MacFarland is one of the first steps of Messrs. Brennan and Scott to acquire control of a chain of hotels. They have a number of other properties under consideration and hope to close other deals in the near future.

DELAWARE MAY VOTE ON SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT TODAY

Advocates and Opponents Held Meeting
Yesterday

BOTH SIDES CLAIM VICTORY

DOVER, Del., March 25.—The Delaware legislature today prepared for voting possibly tomorrow in the senate on ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment. Sessions today were occupied by advocates and opponents of the pending ratification resolution. Suffrage workers admitted they still lacked sufficient votes but declared change later would rally the needed majorities. Opposition leaders were equally confident of victory.

Ratification is impossible before next week, leaders stated tonight, even should the senate adopt the resolution tomorrow. Adjournment of the legislature tomorrow night until Monday is planned.

That suffrage leaders will turn to Connecticut if Delaware refuses to be the thirty-sixth state to ratify was indicated at today's hearings by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national suffrage leader. Referring to refusal of Connecticut's governor to call the legislature in special session Mrs. Catt said the members might convene without a gubernatorial call.

Miss Charlotte Rowe, principal speaker today for the national and Delaware anti-suffrage organization, declared that "so-called" ratification in many other states would be contested before the United States supreme court.

When asked by the court if he had anything to say, before sentence was pronounced Walker blandly replied:

"Well, I didn't fire the shot that killed Samuel Wolechek, but, at that, I didn't come up here to lecture or to hear a lecture. I came to be sentenced."

BITTER ATTACK UPON LLOYD GEORGE

Paris, March 25.—A bitter attack upon Premier Lloyd-George of Great Britain was delivered in the chamber of deputies this afternoon by Jean Louis Bathon, the former premier, in connection with the discussion of France's foreign policy, of which he had given notice.

M. Bathon declared that the British premier was in agreement with the allies in the sending of stern notes to Germany and that he had been politically benefited in England from a vigorous policy toward Germany. However, M. Bathon added, "when these stern notes were sent to Germany they bore the signatures of Clemenceau, or Millerand, while when concessions were allowed Germany, the notes were signed by Mr. Lloyd-George. Thus France is left alone facing Germany, as the country towards which Germany must prepare her revenge."

MILLIONS WASTED BY GOVERNMENT DURING THE WAR

Described as "Carnival of Extravagance"
By Gov. Allen

SPEAKS TO CON CON TODAY

LANSING, Mich., March 25.—Governmental expenditures during and after the war were described by Governor Henry Allen of Kansas in an address tonight as "a carnival of extravagance."

He touched on the expenditure of $150,000,000 on nitrate plants at Charleston, S. C., Norfolk, Va., and other places, "from which not a ship sailed during the war," an expenditure of $20,000,000 for a terminal up the river from Charleston which ships could not reach because the river was too shallow; on the expenditure of $150,000,000 on nitrate plants, "which did not produce a pound of nitrate for use in the war," and on $100,000,000 for tanks "not one of which reached France until after the armistice."

He asserted the history of expenditures will be the most shocking revelation of mismanagement and deliberate waste ever recorded.

Taking up President Wilson's "odd decision to take personal charge of the negotiations for peace," Governor Allen denounced the "exhibition" and declared the American party went to Europe with "all the glory of an oriental entourage."

Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas will address the constitutional convention at Springfield tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Germany divided is nearer ruin than at any time during the great war.

What really prevents congress from declaring peace in the same manner that war was declared.

The time for the consumer to do something and prevent worry in the fuel question is right now.

Government favored southern cities show great increases in population. Coal prices may help boost in the near future.

How to make a dollar in hand do double duty is a problem that it will take wise men to solve, but perhaps it can be done.

The dinner pail and lunch are again becoming fashionable in Chicago, although disguised in many cases as baskets and boxes of sporty design.

The appeal of the revivalist to the religious feeling is more effective in settling labor disputes than is calculated argument, according to J. J. Walsh, federal labor conciliator of Indianapolis. For two years he has been bringing strikers and employers together by sermons. And yet he says he never heard an evangelist.

COMPARISON OF COSTS

Cincinnati ranks third lowest with reference to food costs in separate cities and second lowest with reference to food costs in industrial districts, according to an analysis of government statistics made by the Industrial Department. The cost of food in Cincinnati approximates 8.6 per cent lower than the average of 23 industrial cities of the country whose food prices were examined. It is 3.1 per cent higher than St. Paul, the city with the lowest costs, and 2.4 lower than Boston, the city with the highest costs. It was found that the food costs were lowest in the North Central division of Ohio, Illinois,

Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Nebraska.

RAILWAY REFORMS

Railway managers are pleading for time in which to make reforms which people demand in the management of the roads on their return to private control. No reasonable person expects reforms and changes to come at once, but they do expect that the managers make an earnest, honest effort to improve the service and the protection of shipments against present reckless and careless handling. That all reforms and changes need time for their accomplishment is a fact reorganized by all.

Making the teaching of thrift compulsory in all public schools of the state is proposed by the state teachers' association. Its practice should begin in the home to be effective. "Thrift means good management of the business of living" as a convincing argument in favor of the study it is said that statistics compiled by the American Bankers' Association show that out of one hundred men sixty-five years of age, fifty-four are dependent on children, relatives or charity for support.

THE SPREAD OF WEALTH

Only a few years ago the banking power of the country was concentrated in a few eastern states, then holding nearly sixty per cent of the resources of the country. Today, though the banking resources in these states have increased over seven billions, these states only hold 46.78 per cent of the total, instead of sixty per cent. Since 1899, the growth of bank resources in the middle western states has been 363 per cent; in the fourteen southern states the growth has been 889 per cent; in the eight western states the growth has been 500 per cent; and in the Pacific states the growth has been 134 per cent instead of remaining concentrated in the east. Wealth has been spreading all over the United States.

THE TREATY IN POLITICS

Speaking of the infusion of the peace treaty question into the coming political presidential campaign the Globe thinks it will be only a disturbing element in both parties. The Democratic convention cannot support the President in his stand without condemning the action of half of the Democratic members of the Senate, who have the approval of the majority of the Democratic party. The Republicans actively and the Democrats passively support the reservations, either because they think they are right and absolutely necessary, or because they are convinced that their acceptance is essential if we are to achieve the primary purpose of our great struggle for human freedom. Senator Walsh of Montana, than whom the treaty has had no abler defender, has expressed this conviction in logic that is unanswerable. The treaty can be nothing more than an irritant in this campaign. If Mr. Wilson has any hope that the election will bring a mandate from the people in accord with his desires he may as well abandon it. There is not the slightest indication that the people approve his stand. On the contrary, there are numerous and strong evidences of disapproval, of which, if he has had his ear to the ground, he must be aware. But even if the people were with him there would be no possibility of such a reversal of the Senate as to permit the ratification of the treaty without reservations.

Rippling Rhymes By Walt Mason

From Far Away.

Marconi, who is strong in science, and on whose word we place reliance, informs us that some distant planet (whatever kinds of critters ran it,) is sending signals, almost nightly, attempting patiently, politely, to gain some share of our attention; she has important things to mention. It may be Mars, it may be Venus, which through the reach of space has seen us; it may be Jupiter or Saturn, or planet of a humbler pattern, but some blameworthy world is wiggling-waggling, and hopes to do some chewing-the-ragging. And if at last we make connection with worlds in vertical direction, if Tlatalat globes can get together, no doubt they'll talk about the weather. "It looks like rain," I hear Mars calling; "already sundry drops are falling, and from the east the wind is drilling; Old Pluvius will make a killing." And Jupiter, to cur inquiring, will say the corn is badly firing. Already we are daily spilling with shades through twilight spaces reeling, and what they say is all so fruitless, long distance talks seem vain and bootless. We never get a word important; ghosts give us piffle, when they'd ortn't.

THE HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING AND ITS NAME

The undersigned speak with authority, as all authority rests in the Board of Education, but suggests that the lack of sympathy on the part of some of the students in the naming of the High school building "The Newton Bateman High School" grows out of a slight misunderstanding of the situation.

This is not the Jacksonville High school, nor The Newton Bateman High school. It is technically the High School of District No. 117 of Morgan County, and neither the pupils of the High school nor the Board of Education can authoritatively change its legal title.

Since the High school became the High School of District No. 117 of Morgan County, the pupils interested in athletics have continued designating themselves as belonging to the Jacksonville High school. That is a matter of their own taste and of their own right. There is nothing in the action of the Board of Education which would require them to make any change.

Judging by such expressions as I have heard from the several members and from the action taken by the Board in session, I understand the feeling to be substantially that it is a patriotic thing for a community in some way, to perpetuate the name of the several citizens who have made a place for themselves in the world, and reflected honor on the community in which they lived.

The writer remembers Newton Bateman personally, as do many of the older citizens, and has known of him by reputation from childhood. Some years ago, not long after the war, Newton Bateman delivered a lecture in what was then known as Strawn's hall, in which he narrated some of the incidents in connection with his life in Jacksonville. He said that as a small boy, he came with his parents in a mover's wagon, as travelling was done very much in those days, and that tired, dusty, and tramped, he stopped on a corner near the square, and that a boy came up and spoke to him, whom he afterwards knew as Mr. Marshall P. Ayers; that he did not recall the words but that he did recall that they were kind words, and that was the beginning of a friendship that had ever after continued.

Mr. Bateman grew up in Jacksonville, and in the course of time, he became the Principal of what was then known as the West District school, and was located on the east half of the present High school lot. He made that school widely known, and it was attended by youth from other counties around. The writer remembers when a little boy, of hearing a youth in Chandlerville, tell of his experiences in that school, as long ago as 1856.

After making a name for himself in connection with that school, he came to be the State Superintendent of public instruction, and was the Master mind in the evolution of the public school system of Illinois. His name is known, and his character and achievements as a public school man, is revered from one end of the State to the other. It seemed fitting to the Board of Education to honor his memory, and to honor the District in which he made his reputation, and formed his character as a school man, by naming the building located on the very spot where his abilities were demonstrated, in his honor and memory.

This action of the Board is commemorative of a man whose name will go down in the history of schools of Illinois, as a really great man, and it will be an honor, as it is the unique privilege of Jacksonville, to have a noble structure erected on the spot where his career was made, called by his name. No other District in the State of Illinois can do this.

So long as there is but one High school building in Jacksonville, it will be very natural to speak of the Jacksonville High school. Gradually the pupils may become familiar with the name The Newton Bateman High school; but they are not likely to use it to any great extent at first, there being no occasion to distinguish the High school in Jacksonville from another.

Yours truly,
Julian P. Lippincott

THE KEY TO HEALTH

When the Chiropractor, by scientific adjustment removes the pressure from the nerves and helps Nature to restore Health, the operation seems a simple one. Yet the knowledge is one that is gained after a great deal of investigation, for Chiropractic is just as much a science and a profession that has to be learned as any other Health-method.

Knowledge of Spine and Nerves

The Chiropractor must intimately know the body. He must know what nerves feed every organ and just where these nerves branch out from the spine, so that he can place his finger right on the point of pressure that is causing trouble in a certain part of the body.

Because of this expert knowledge of why he adjusts, where and how to do it, the Chiropractor can by examining the spine, tell what is the trouble without a patient telling him anything. The spine is the key. Spinal pressure on a certain nerve leads to weakness and disease in a certain organ. That's why the Chiropractor adjusts a certain part of the spine to relieve headaches and another part of the spine for stomach or abdominal troubles, etc. In no drugs or knife are used. If you are not as well as you should be, have your spine adjusted and the cause of your troubles removed, so Nature can make you strong and healthy again. Information, or a spinal analysis given without obligation. Investigate.

- Have cares of their own

THIS Company

- Has had experience in managing estates.
- Has a permanent organization, ever accessible, always on duty.
- Makes a business of administering wills and managing estates; has no conflicting interests of its own; is an unfailing, disinterested representative of the testator.

If trust company service has been created for the express purpose of safeguarding estates—why not avail yourself of it? The fee is no higher than you would have to pay a competent individual.

Salvage Plant Is Located in Chicago — Weir Brainer Making Good as Investigator.

A number of Jacksonville people will be interested in knowing of the successful work of Weir Brainer, who is in the government service. In the war time he was first stationed at the government gun plant at Hammond, Ind., where he was a substitute inspector.

It was not long until his special mechanical ability was recognized and he was appointed an inspector. Later on out of a large number of instructors he was one of two transferred to the government's salvage plant located at 74th and Ashland in Chicago. He is now serving as a special government investigator and it is his duty to appraise the value of machinery which the government is selling. Most of the time he is at the salvage plant but his work occasionally takes him to special assignments.

Harry Hart was recently at the salvage plant where he saw and talked with Mr. Brainer. In referring to the plant yesterday Mr. Hart said that no one could realize the vast extent of this salvage plant without inspecting it. In one portion stood lathes, machines which cost the government $3,500 each, and placed close together and this line of machinery offered for sale is more than a half a mile in length. The lathes constitute just one item and hundreds of other articles are found in the salvage plant in equally large supply.

Anyone who visits the salvage plant can easily understand where the large government expenditures went in the war time.

MRS. R. L. PYATT DIES
THURSDAY MORNING

Passed Away After Brief Illness of Pneumonia—Funeral Arrangements Not Known.

Mrs. Betty Curtis Pyatt, wife of City Clerk R. L. Pyatt, died at Our Savior's hospital at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Death resulted from pneumonia after an illness of only two days.

The news of Mrs. Pyatt's death came as a great shock to her many friends as it was not generally known that she was ill. Her death is doubly sad because of the fact that Mr. Pyatt is in Asheville, N. C., where he went several months ago in an effort to regain his health.

A message was sent to him Wednesday apprising him of Mrs. Pyatt's illness. Another telegram conveying the news of her death was sent Thursday morning. Thursday afternoon a message was received from him to the effect that he was leaving for Jacksonville at once and expected to arrive Saturday. He will be accompanied by former Chief of Police George P. Davis, who has been spending the winter with Mr. Pyatt at Asheville.

Deceased was the daughter of the late George Curtis and was born east of the city fifty years ago. She received her education in the local schools. She was united in marriage to R. L. Pyatt, who survives together with two daughters, Lucy and Helen Pyatt, both at home. She also leaves her aged mother, who has made her home with her for a number of years and one brother, Dr. Fred G. Curtis, of Kansas City, who arrived in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Pyatt was a member of Central Christian church and was actively identified with its work and always ready and willing to do her share in the various phases of church work. She was also a member of the Woman's club and the Domestic Science Round Table.

Mrs. Pyatt was devoted to her home and during the long illness of her husband a year ago gave him all the care and attention that love could devise. Her greatest happiness was found in her home. Yet with all her home duties she yet found time to minister to others in time of sorrow and trouble and was always among the first to offer aid.

The remains were removed to the mortuary of John G. Reynolds and prepared for burial. The time of the funeral has not been announced.

Daniels.

Funeral services for Roy Daniels were held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the undertaking parlors of Williamson and Cody on East State street. Rev. M. L. Pontius officiated.

The flowers were taken care of by Mrs. J. Graves and Mrs. Robert Loving. James Guyette, C. L. Mathis, Miss Cora Graham and Mrs. Mae Hitt furnished the music.

Interment was in the Jacksonville cemetery. The following were pall bearers: Ted Hocking, Fred Beerup, John Rawlings, Clarence Yost and Alonzo Correa.

Bert Williams in his funniest "Follies" has nothing on the oriental scene called the "King of Gazook" in the Elk's Jollie of 1920. The real comedy of the King and Queen of Gazook which is made possible by the special scenery, the court attendant and fan bearer, creates laughter and crying at the same time. One ridiculously funny episode follows another until the audience is in a riot. This scene is only one of several of a show that is not too long or too short. Jacksonville's prettiest girls, beautifully costumed will appear in musical comedy at the Grand Opera House on April 1st and 2nd. The seat sale will open next Monday morning.

Mrs. Grassley made the most, $10.50, with Mrs. Allen King and Mrs. Farrell close seconds. This circle turned in about $15.00.

CITY TO PROCEED WITH BETTERMENT PLANSWILL AWARD CONTRACTS
FOR POWER AND FILTRA-
TION PLANTS.Citizens' Committee After Careful Study Recommended This Course—Building Plans Somewhat Modified—Further Bond Issue Needed to Provide Switch and Some Equipment.

Members of the city council, citizens' committee and engineers were busy all of Thursday in an endeavor to reduce the plans for the proposed filtration and power plants to a financial cost within the city's means. The big purpose was to reduce the cost but to retain the efficiency.

At a council session held last night the special citizens' committee made a report based on engineers' findings in which they recommended that the council proceed to let the contract for the filtration and power plants in accordance with the changed plans. This recommendation calls for the expenditure of approximately $139,000. It contemplates the use of the money now available for the two plants and that which can be raised thru a further bond issue to the amount of from $25,000 to $30,000.

When this committee, which included Dr. J. R. Harker, W. L. Fay, John S. Hackett and T. M.

Tomlinson, had submitted its report together with summarized engineers' figures, Mayor Crabtree called the city council to order. Alderman Cain serving as clerk, Alderman Chapin, with a second by Alderman McGinnis, moved that the report be received and that the council act on the recommendations of the committee. This motion was carried by a unanimous vote.

Plant Efficiency Retained.

Members of the council present were Aldermen Cain, Chapin, Ehle, McGinnis and Flynn. After action had been taken by the council the mayor called upon the different persons present to make any statement that occurred to them with reference to the recommendation. Dr. Harker, W. L. Fay, and Edward Loneragan of the committee, said that they accounted it very important for the city to go ahead at this time with the proposed work. They believe that the deductions made from the plans would not materially interfere with the efficiency of the plants and that the features omitted could be added later on if it was deemed advisable. They said too, that they had no doubt about the willingness of citizens to authorize further issuance of bonds to the amount of $25,000 or $30,000 to make it possible to proceed with this work.

Others who spoke along the same line were Bernard Gause, Dr. E. F. Baker, J. A. Bellatti, H. L. Caldwell and J. T. Walbridge. In accordance with the action taken last night it is probable that an early meeting of the council will be held and the contract for the construction of the two plants awarded to the John T. Walbridge Construction Co. The total bid of this company being the lowest submitted.

The city will be glad to enter into a contract relation with Mr. Walbridge because of the very satisfactory work done in the construction of the reservoir and spillway. The work proceeded smoothly and it was evidently the desire of Mr. Walbridge to carry out his contract in a way to make the finished work entirely satisfactory.

It is understood that Vasconcellos & Son as sub-contractors will have a large amount of work to do in connection with the construction of the plants. One factor which influenced the members of the committee and the council in favor of the letting of contracts at this time is that labor is one of the large items in the construction cost, this being especially true of the filtration plant, and there is nothing to give indication of any early lowering of wages.

Citizens' Committee Report.

The report of the citizens' committee which the council adopted was as follows:

The citizens' committee recommend to the city council of the city of Jacksonville that they enter into a revised contract with the lowest responsible bidder for both filtration plant and power plant in accordance with the changed plans and specifications.

as recommended in the accompanying statement, and Further, that the amount of bonds already voted, being insufficient to complete this work in its entirety, we recommend that the city council of the city of Jacksonville call an election for the purpose of authorizing an issue of bonds amounting to $30,000, or an amount about that sum that may be legally issued in 1920.

Joseph R. Harker, W. L. Fay, Edw. Loneragan, John S. Hackett, T. M. Tomlinson.

Contract Figures.

Accompanying the recommendation and made a part of it was a sheet giving the following figures as the basis on which it is proposed that the contracts shall be awarded:

Filtration Plant.
Contractor's bid.....$67,837
Deductions..... 4,720

Net.....$63,117
The deductions were for work in connection with the flush tank, supply pipe and sewer connections.

Power Plant.
Contractor's bid.....$58,417
Added wall construction. 730

Total.....$59,147
Deductions..... 14,443

Net.....$44,704
The deductions include bunk-house, industrial track, steel floor, hand rail, steel doors, one cross wall, galvanized roofing, office and wash room.

Recapitulation.
Proposed cost of filtration plant.....$63,117
Proposed cost of power plant..... 44,704

Total.....$107,821

In addition to the power plant building the revised estimates of costs are as follows:

Stack.....$ 6,300
Railroad switch..... 3,600
Extra trestle..... 1,000
Engineering expense..... 4,500
Boiler..... 4,000
Setting boiler..... 5,000
Removal of plant..... 7,000
Brought forward..... 107,821

Total.....$139,221

As indicated, the city has sufficient funds to pay for the filtration and power plants and after the payment thereof there will probably be a small balance on hand. Thru the issuance of other bonds it will be possible to raise a sufficient fund to pay for the stack, switch, boiler, etc., not included in the filtration plant or power plant building contract.

CONCORD LADIES AID PURCHASES BUILDING

Aid Society of Christian Church Buys Store Building—"Sunny Jim" Scholfield to Conduct Service—Other Concord News.

Concord, March 25.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Concord Christian church has purchased the old store building where the barber shop of John Webb is now located. Many years ago this building was erected for a church. Later "Uncle" B. F. Moss, an old war veteran owned and occupied the building as a store and post-office. Adam Wenger, son of the late Dr. A. Wenger conducted a restaurant there until his health failed. It has also been used as a residence for various families. The ladies purchased it from C. E. Rexroat and will have the east side of it remodeled for a supper room. Mr. Webb will continue to use the barber shop. On April 3rd, the ladies aid will give their annual chicken pie supper, to which a generous public will be invited to come and get a good feed at a living price.

Concord is to have "Sunny Jim" Scholfield for one week beginning on Tuesday March 30th. He will speak each evening at the Christian church and according to all reports he will give all church goers something worth while.

Rev. Thomas Symons preached the funeral of the late William Burrus at McKendree church, northwest of here on Monday. Mr. Burrus was one of the prominent citizens of that community and will be a man greatly missed.

Augusta Tiemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tiemann, living a few miles west of here has been very ill for some days, but is now improving in a gratifying manner.

Mrs. Ethel Plank received a letter on Tuesday from Cedar Rapids, Nebraska, stating that Mrs. John Reed had laid up with rheumatism and is suffering very much.

Rolland Cooper of Versailles was a recent visitor at the home of J. E. Whorton.

Mrs. O. T. Hamm spent a part of last Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Green, her parents in Arenzville.

The Journal Scribe visited Sunday at 460 South East street, Jacksonville. Mrs. Henderson is recovering from a severe illness. In the afternoon we accepted a ride in Mrs. Harley Adams' car, and made a trip to the new lake.

John Webb has purchased the residence north of the blacksmith shop and will move probably next week. Dr. Johnson will move to the house to be vacated by John Webb. Others to move are William Loughary, Mr. Hammond and George Moore.

A number of the ladies of the M. E. church went out to Mrs. Sarah Plank's on Joy Prairie on Tuesday and took baskets of dinner along. No doubt they had a nice time.

IN THE DAWN OF ANOTHER DAY (Contributed)

In the early morning April 17, 1843 at Jacksonville, Ill., a wee babe was born to William and Mary Harrison. They named this babe Martha. She grew to girlhood and was educated in the old Methodist college which was first held in the old East Charge church. She grew to womanhood and spent her life in the home and in other useful employment outside the home. She never married but sacrificed her time and liberty taking care of her two nieces Adah and Mary E. Harrison, who were left orphans in their infancy.

After the old home was broken up Martha and Sarah went to make their home with Mary E. Harrison, better known in Jacksonville as Birdie. They first went to Litchfield, Minn., where Mary was teaching in the Litchfield Normal school. Later they removed to Los Angeles, California where Mary had received another and better appointment.

Sarah Harrison "passed on" four years ago with paralysis, and soon after her death Martha began to fail. She was very active and always ready to go; wanted to keep up and had that independent spirit until the last. Her wonderful memory furnished her much food for thought. At the age of eighty-five years she was still able to help about the home, sew, knit and read without glasses. Her hearing was perfect.

One year ago she was stricken with paralysis and since that time was not able to leave her bed or her chair unless some loving hand helped her into her wheel chair and took her out. During all the days of suffering she never complained and never spoke a cross word to any of her attendants. People loved to visit her, young and old, because she was so cheery.

In the early morning, March 3,

I am more grateful to Tanlac than words can express, for it has given me health and happiness after twelve long years of suffering. The enthusiastic statement made the other day by Mrs. Olive Peltier, of Vermont.

"I am more grateful to Tanlac than words can express for it has given me health and happiness after twelve long years of suffering." was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Olive Peltier, No. 26 East Allen Street, Winoski, Vt.

"I had been troubled so long with nervousness and sleeplessness that my housework was a drudgery and I got little pleasure out of life. My appetite left me entirely and at times I could hardly bear the sight of food and what little I did eat caused me severe suffering afterward. Gas would form on my stomach so badly that it affected my heart and I thought I had heart trouble.

"I was so nervous I would jump at the least unexpected noise and would drop everything I had in my hands. I got so weak and faint at times that I would have to catch hold of something to keep me from falling over. My sleep was broken and restless and I was losing weight rapidly. I had little strength or energy and, as I had tried all kinds of medicines without relief, I had become very much discouraged over my condition.

"My husband had been taking Tanlac and when I saw what wonderful results he was getting I decided to try it myself and now I think as much of Tanlac as he does because it has helped me the same way.

"My appetite has come back and everything agrees with me perfectly. I am taking on weight rapidly and have already gained nine pounds; in fact, I feel perfectly well in every way. Tanlac has done wonders for me and I am only too happy to tell others about it."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover & Sarve and by the leading drug stores in every town. Adv.

1920 after a sleep of eight days and nights the "tired little old lady" slipped away into the dawn of another day.

Martha Harrison was the eldest of ten children. Only one sister, Mrs. Susan Gibbons of Quincy, Ill., and two brothers, Charles Harrison of Barry, Ill., and George W. Harrison of Little Rock, Arkansas are left. The one who will miss her most is her niece with whom she has made her home for eighteen years, the one whom she has mothered and loved above all earthly ties, but consolation comes in the thought that her kind and loving spirit will live on forever.

The Future of Farming

—and The J. I. Case Plow Works Company

The American farmer today represents the greatest single purchasing power in the world. His expenditures necessary to conduct his business exceed that of all other industries in America combined.

According to the United States census, there are 6,361,000 farms in this country and such is the dependency of the entire world on the product of these farms that everything possible is being done to encourage still greater production by means of greater efficiency.

For forty-four years the farming implements manufactured by the J. I. CASE PLOW WORKS COMPANY have been a dependable element in the cost of producing food, and they have been a large factor in securing greater farming efficiency.

Today because of new world conditions and the new machinery necessary in profitable farming, the J. I. CASE PLOW WORKS COMPANY faces a new and prosperous era.

Its productions from plows to tractors have been fully proven—the demand for them is already greater than the company is in a position to supply; the earnings of the company are exceeding all estimates; and the possibilities for a satisfactory investment in the securities of this company are well worth investigation by conservative investors. We especially recommend consideration of the First Preferred Stock of this company and shall be glad to give those who desire to obtain full details, some interesting facts.

Mowed His Lawn First Time In Years

Mr. Andrews now boasts for Natski Blood Purifier—says he can mow his lawn now. Mighty interesting letter he wrote about it. Read it over:

"I have suffered with rheumatism for twenty-three years and during that time I doctored in Chicago, also in Mudavia, and in both places I spent a great deal of time as well as money, and received no results.

"During the past four months I have been using Natski Blood Purifier and feel greatly benefited, in fact it is the only medicine or treatment of any kind that I can say has done me any good. I mowed my lawn this summer for the first time in years.

The Near East Relief

Actual Conditions in Armenia as Described by Miss Louise Chamberlain, a Red Cross Nurse, Just Returned to America After 10 Months Service in Near East Relief Hospitals

GLIMPSSES OF THE INFERNO

"It isn't too much to say that my soul was frozen within the last winter in Erivan," said Miss Chamberlain. "Time and time again we workers could neither eat nor sleep so awful was the conditions of the people, and especially the children and the babies."

"With my own eyes I have seen, living children in the shelters sleeping on what I supposed were dirty mattresses in a court yard. Not until we roused the little ones did we see the mattresses were the blackened bodies of their companions, some of them dead for several days. I asked some of the children why they slept on the bodies, and their answer was they had to have something to sleep on to keep their almost naked bodies from the frozen ground."

"Emaciated, half naked little ones, their skins stretched across their bones and shriveled until with their claw-like fingers and parchment-skinned faces they looked more like mummies than human beings, they were sleeping—with the dead."

"Will American mothers believe me when I tell them I have seen with my own eyes babies barely able to toddle, stand for hours in the bread line at one of the first soup kitchens we established, every bone in their naked little bodies showing? Only the pressure of their companions kept them from falling. Among them were babies that by right should have been at their mothers' breast. The mother was dead and her baby was one of the hundreds among the starving refugees."

"We have seen hopeless mothers, themselves on the verge of death, beg their priests to bless their infants and then drown them that they might be spared the horrors of slow starvation."

"If you had seen children in the streets of Erivan last winter pounding with stones the bones of animals into a rough, pasty mass and greedily devouring it; if you had known that in the cemeteries bodies had been stolen and the next day seen in the cooking pots of the refugees, human bones, what would you say? Could you blame them?"

"In normal times, Erivan had a population of 35,000. When I first came there I was told that there were at least 100,000 people in the city. They congested the streets, the alleys, the courtyards, ruined, roofless buildings, they huddled in the squares and fields, anywhere and everywhere that gave promise of shelter from the pitiless, penetrating rain of the Caucasus that chilled one to the bone, even when warmly clad."

"And these thousands were not warmly clad. Far from it. In rags and tatters they had wandered for four years. The once rich and the once poor who had fled before the advancing Turks, were now on the same level of raggedness. The Turk had gone but he had left in his wake hunger, disease and a wretchedness that neither I nor others who have seen and lived with it can describe."

"If the children got bread they ate. If not, they starved. In the streets thousands of them roamed recklessly around, resembling nothing else so much as hungry puppies, seeking food. Scenting a piece of garbage they would flock to it and squabble childishly over the fragments before they wolfed them down. Never were the streets of Erivan so free from garbage, for the children scavengers ate everything, bones, scraps, bits of melon rind, anything that looked at all near-like food."

"And this was the situation when the Near East Relief personnel arrived and took charge. For two weeks we could get no supplies. We lived on what food we had brought in our trucks. We ate when the insistent call of hunger overcame the repugnance to food brought on by the horrors everywhere before our eyes and by the odors that everywhere assailed our nostrils and by the pitiful pleas from babies and children and men and women that assailed our ears."

"That first bread. Black it was and sour. You could see the coarse bits of chopped straw. But when the American flour came and we issued our first real bread, it came as a royal feast to these starving ones to whom bread is indeed the staff of life."

"Did they need the Near East Relief in the Caucasus? Do they still need it? Let me tell you as dispassionately as I can. Yes."

"That the situation is much improved since the relief work began is indisputable. But it is also indisputable that with all that has been done, all that has been spent, only the surface of the misery has been scratched. In Erivan alone we are feeding and caring for 10,848 orphans in our shelters, feeding, clothing and housing them. In Erivan there are fully that number more wandering aimlessly about, hungry, shelterless and half clad."

"In one, just one, of our refugee camps are 1,600 people. We are feeding 20,000 people a day—thousands more are starving because we have not the supplies to give them food. In one camp hospital we have 200 patients. There are not enough blankets and the sick ones shiver under the thin bed coverings."

"The work cannot stop. I hope and pray with all my heart that America will heed the appeal of the Near East. I have tried to have you visualize things as they are, as I have seen them. Don't think they are exaggerated. The actual conditions need no exaggeration. You cannot exaggerate conditions when an entire people is starving and freezing and dying, where the quick and the dead have to lie together and the pitiful wails of hungry, orphaned babies sound through the long winter days and nights of the icy Caucasus."

Mrs. Frances Huxtable Left Property in Trust for Children

In the office of County Clerk L. Riggs yesterday the will of Mrs. Frances Scott Huxtable, late of Cleveland, Ohio, was filed for record. This was in reality a copy of the will and it was recorded as well as in Ohio because of the interests of persons resident in this county.

The witnesses to the will were John W. and Elizabeth R. Lazenby and the court at Cleveland appointed Thomas Worthington of this city to take the depositions of the witnesses.

Mrs. Huxtable was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Z. Scott, both now deceased but former residents of this county. Mrs. Huxtable after providing for debts and funeral expenses, bequeathed all the rest of her property to her brother, Harvey Scott, and her sister, Rachel Scott, in trust. The trustees are to divide the net income from the property between the two minor children of the deceased. After the younger one of the two has become of age the property is to be conveyed to them. The property involved is an undivided one-fifth interest in the real estate located in Morgan and Scott county which Mrs. Huxtable inherited from her parents.

COUNTY CONFERENCE TO BE HELD NEXT MONTH

Inter-Church Movement Workers Planning to Meet April 8th—Some Purposes of the Big Movement.

Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick is in charge of the publicity for the inter-church movement work and made the following statement yesterday.

Arrangements are being perfected to hold simultaneous county conferences in all the counties of the state April 6 to 9. The Morgan county conference will be held on the 8th of April. A splendid inspirational program is being arranged by the headquarters office in Chicago.

The meeting will hold morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The night session will be of great interest. A survey lecture, illustrated will be part of the program. Delegates and pastors are expected to be present and get a vision of the wonderful opportunity opening to the church.

The young people will hold a conference beginning at 4:30 p. m. and a stereopticon lecture will also be provided for their evening program. We hope to interest the high school young people and help them also to get a vision of the big things going on in the world. The program on arrangements will be very busy to make this the most helpful and inspiring conference ever held in our city. Why should it not be, when the mightiest things are being transacted in the world since the advent of the Christian era.

The financial objective for the 1920 United Simultaneous campaign April 26 to May 2, has been fixed. It calls for $236,777.572. This financial objective is the aggregate of the budgets of thirty denominations co-operating in the interchurch world movement. These denominations will receive all money and spend it in accordance with denominational plans. Of the total sum named in the budget, $175,448.349 is to be paid in during this year. The balance will be paid in varying periods of from two to five years according to denominational policies.

15,000,000 Members.
To these the appeal for funds is directly addressed and to that large part of the 110,000,000 Americans who are not members of any church.

The denominational membership interested comprises almost 60 percent of the twenty-five million Protestants in the United States. Every church member will be canvassed personally, and similar appeals to give will be addressed to that vast group of friendly citizens not directly connected with any church. Weekly payments will be urged.

There are 182 boards and other organizations of the thirty denominations cooperating in this financial campaign, which for the first time in the history of public asking have appropriated every dollar to some concrete cause after a thorough survey of the needs of the world, before asking the people to give.

These boards will disburse the money raised in carrying on their regular work of missions, education and philanthropy in the United States and foreign lands.

Interchurch Only an Agent.
In presenting this budget the interchurch world movement is asking nothing for itself. All expenses will be paid by co-operating agencies. It simply serves all the denominations participating.

The sum is large it does not adequately provide for the needs of the church as ascertained by the six survey units of the interchurch movement.

The fact that only thirty Protestant Evangelical denominations are associated in the campaign should not be taken as an indication of hostility on the part of those not participating.

In many cases cooperation by governing bodies of denominations could not be arranged in time to take part in the financial campaign. The other denominations, needing funds, could not permit delay in the program.

Jacksonville Council No. 5 R. & S. M. will hold a stated assembly this evening at 7:30 o'clock. WORK. Visiting companions welcome.

ANNIVERSARY OF DEAF EDUCATOR CELEBRATED

A gathering of special interest to the deaf people of this city was that at the Gallaudet club rooms Wednesday evening, when the birthday anniversary of the late Dr. Gillett was fittingly observed. This is an annual event and thus the deaf mutes of the city pay honor to the memory of the prominent former citizen who did so much for those deprived of hearing. This year's program was in charge of a committee including Mrs. Fred W. Scheneman, chairman; Mrs. T. J. Cranwill, and Mrs. William Lebkuecher.

One feature of the program which was especially enjoyed was the "postoffices," where one could receive mail by making payment for the postage due. Another clever feature was the arresting of individuals in the company for petty offenses and then collecting money in the way of fines. The money raised is to go into "The Home Fund," which the deaf of the state are raising and which is some day to build a home for aged and infirm deaf mutes. A goodly sum was added to the fund because of Wednesday evening's entertainment.

A letter which was read during the evening was from a resident of the northern part of the state, who enclosed a check for $20 to pay to the fund.

Mrs. Grant Gaines has returned from Springfield where she has been several days.

STOCK BREEDERS TALK SALES PAVILION BARN

Enthusiastic Meeting Held at Pacific Hotel Thursday Night—All Present Heartily in Favor of Building.

Enthusiasm ran riot at the meeting of the Morgan Stock Breeders' Association at the Pacific hotel Thursday night. Despite bad weather sixteen men were present representing some of the biggest stock breeders and dealers in the county.

Those present were: Lester Reed, R. Y. Gibson, W. A. Masters, J. W. Arnold, J. L. Henry, Harry Kimer, S. J. Camm, G. B. Kendall, T. H. Buckthorpe, G. J. Wright, F. J. Blackburn, Grant Graff, Dr. G. H. Koppert, Howard Stevenson, Yuba Funk.

The company enjoyed an excellent dinner served in fine style. This repast and the cigars that followed were furnished by J. L. Henry.

At the conclusion of the dinner Lester Reed acted as chairman and called on everyone present for remarks. The sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of a pavilion that would include offices for the county agent a display room for farmers' supplies and storage and a rest room for ladies. The ones present took a vote at the time on an arrangement and it was unanimous to go ahead and see if plans could not be made for the erection of the building.

In his opening remarks Mr. Reed spoke of a recent cattle sale held in the city and said that when the time came it was almost impossible to find a building suitable for the purpose. He called on J. L. Henry.

J. L. Henry Gives Cost Figures
In the beginning Mr. Henry told of securing an option on the lot formerly occupied by the Packard stable on East Court street from A. C. Metcalf. He said that he and Mr. Reed had given their checks for $500 each to hold the option and the price of the lot was $3,500.

Mr. Henry then gave some figures he had secured for the building of a structure 90 by 180 feet. A Chicago firm had offered to erect a steel structure for $24,000 complete with concrete floor. This figure seemed rather high to Mr. Henry and he consulted with S. G. Chumley, who had told him that a building ten feet at the eaves with skylights at the top could be erected for $17,500. He figured $5,000 for heating and plumbing and the same amount for the rest room and county agent's rooms. The total cost he figured at $31,000. He also gave figures for maintenance and interest. Mr. Henry was very enthusiastic and said he believed the building could be secured.

G. B. Kendall Talks.
G. B. Kendall, the county agent told of like buildings he had seen in other cities. He was glad there was no definite plan to be suggested at this meeting. Mr. Kendall said that those present should discuss the matter from every standpoint before taking any action.

The speaker believed that such a building would be a fine thing. He had always had in mind something of the kind where seed could be stored for the use of farmers.

Harry Kimer heartily favored such a building. He believed that the only problem was to finance the project. He did not believe that those who put their money into it should expect large returns on the investment.

Dr. G. H. Koppert said he was not a farmer but heartily in sympathy with their problems. The speaker said that the pavilion could be built. All that was needed was enough to get behind it and it could be put over. He suggested that the Rotary club was strongly in favor of the proposition.

Wants Good Roads to City.
J. W. Arnold said he was not a member of the Stock Breeders' association, but had been selling stock for 23 years. The speaker was of the opinion that the people who had something to sell should be educated. He told of many times he had sold stock at his sales for other people and it had all been hid in by them.

Mr. Arnold also said the people of Jacksonville should be educated to a knowledge of the need of good roads so that the farmers could get into the city. He referred to the fact that the city had now spoiled two of the best roads leading into the city.

C. J. Wright favored the pavilion and believed that the vote to build would be unanimous. He believed that the Farm Bureau should also get behind the movement.

Fletcher Blackburn also favored the sales pavilion. Mr. Blackburn believed that there would be no trouble if the matter was gone at in the right way.

W. A. Masters was of the opinion that such a building was badly needed both by the county and city. He did not believe there would be any trouble in financing the proposition if everybody went to work.

Plans for Young Farmers.
Howard Stevenson said that a sales pavilion would be a great thing for the young man just starting. It would take them years to develop enough to hold individual sales. With a sales pavilion they could dispose of their stock to a good advantage.

Grant Graff, R. Y. Gibson, T. H. Buckthorpe, Yuba Funk and S. J. Camm all endorsed what had been said. T. H. Buckthorpe took occasion to say that he did believe that the building would be large enough, and thought they should look to the future.

The men present then discussed the project informally and held a good old fashioned love feast. It is probable that immediate steps will be taken to ascertain just what kind of a building is needed and then go to work.

Wise Economy

The superior quality of Valier's Enterprise flour makes it truly economical to use. High gluten content, combined with careful, scientific milling, enables it to produce more baking per sack. And it eliminates expensive failures. Baking done with it is delicious to the last flavorful crumb.

The result is a flour on whose uniformity high quality you can always rely. So no one objects to its slightly greater cost per sack. It is an investment amply repaid in the end by better baking and

WHITE HALL DOCTOR EIGHTY YEARS OLD

Dr. A. W. Foreman, Prominent Greene County Physician, Celebrates Anniversary of Birth Today—Practiced Medicine For Over Half Century.

White Hall, March 25.—Today is being celebrated the eightieth birthday anniversary of Dr. A. W. Foreman, bestor of the medical profession in White Hall if not in Greene county. Open house is being maintained during the afternoon at the family residence on North Main street, and a formal gathering and program will be carried out this evening. No man, young or old, more enjoys social intercourse with neighbors and friends than Dr. Foreman, and the gatherings at his home have been numerous in recent years, and they have always been characterized with moral, educational and patriotic value, this being the first gathering in honor of the doctor.

Dr. Foreman came from a family of nineteen children, all of whom, except one, grew to manhood and womanhood, and fourteen of them living to be seventy years of age and over, of whom our subject and one brother are the only survivors. Dr. Foreman was born March 25, 1840, in Warren county, Indiana, just across the Illinois line, about ten miles east of Danville. In the fall of the same year the father moved his family to Pike county, Illinois, when Abner W. was about six months of age, and there he grew to manhood, coming to White Hall in 1859. His only boyhood education was obtained in the common district school of three months in the year. He afterwards taught for several winters, and then embarked upon a medical profession, entering a medical school in Cincinnati. He began the practice of his profession in the spring of 1866 at Detroit, Pike county, and came to White Hall on July 5, 1869, and here he has since remained "for good or for bad," as he puts it.

When he was just past nineteen years of age he and Miss Hayden were married in Pike county, and she lived to see her seven children develop into useful men and women, she dying November 21, 1896. Of these seven children, only one is deceased, Dr. C. B. Foreman, who died at Kane, Ill., November 22, 1916. The others are Attorney Grant Foreman of Muskogee, Oklahoma; Dora B. wife of Dr. H. W. Hand, Orland, Calif.; Lois, wife of C. E. Ellis, Glenn, Calif.; Bertha, wife of Dr. W. L. Ellis, San Diego, Calif.; Dr. E. J. Foreman, Trinidad, Colo.; Herbert Spencer Foreman, in charge of a department of the Graves Registration Service in France.

On January 11, 1898, Dr. Foreman and Miss Adelaide Ross, daughter of the late Simeon Ross were married, and there is one child by this union, Miss Adelaide, at home. They have a beautiful and modern home on North Main street, the library itself being probably the most extensive and valuable private library in the community, it containing only a few volumes of fiction, being in the main a research library of the highest value. It includes "The Historians' History of the World" and many old standard histories, all choice. The home also has a number of rare plants and flowers gathered by Dr. and Mrs. Foreman on their trips to California and elsewhere. Until turning the business over to his daughter at home, Dr. Foreman was also a poultry raiser, his stock scoring among the best at shows in this section of the state. Dr. Foreman is a veteran of the Civil War, one of the twenty-five surviving members of Culver post, G. A. R., of White Hall, having served as commander and as delegate to state and national encampments. He served with Company D, 7th Illinois, the first regiment that was made up from Illinois at Lincoln's call, and for several years has attended the dwindling reunions of survivors of this regiment. His major is the present custodian of the Lincoln National monument at Springfield, Edward S. Johnson, and the two men have always been close friends.

In civil life Dr. Foreman has not only been a practicing physician, whose services have always been subject to any call without ever any question as to pay for his services, but he has been a man of a wide range of intellectual attainments and activities. When the original White Hall library was established early in the seventies, he was given full power to make the foundation selection, and no finer tribute as to the value of this library could be made than that from Adjutant General H. D. Hamilton, of New York, a few years ago. At a banquet in New York City this distinguished White Hall boy, at one time in nomination by President Wilson for brigadier general, was referred to by a speaker as the best read man in the New York Press club. General Hamilton was so grateful for the tribute that he turned back to his old home town with full credit to the old library for the foundation of his reading, making a generous donation to the present library, the remainder of the old library having reverted to the White Hall high school, many of the books having become lost.

Dr. Foreman has always been active in the moral and educational advancement of the community, but he has always felt a great loss in the deaths of his bosom friends of practically a lifetime, Major E. A. Giller and Capt. E. J. Pearce, whose deaths occurred thirteen years ago, since which time our subject has not felt inclined to initiate public movements with his old-time vigor. He was critic in the old White Hall Dramatic club, succeeded by the White Hall Historic society. He is not an orator, but he is a debater who is worthy of his foe. He was a member of the Ego club, Ethical society and other White Hall literary societies that have passed out of existence since he has not had the assistance of Major Giller and Capt. Pearce in keeping such good work alive. For fifteen years, however, Dr. Foreman has been a member of the Current Topic club of Carrollton, and is to be the leader at the May meeting on a subject of his own choosing. He is a special student of psychology, and has prepared a discourse on the mental effects of trashy fiction that he will probably present at Carrollton in May.

In religion he is a Unitarian and in politics a republican. And though eighty years of age, his mental powers never were more vigorous and keen, it seems, and he would be just as great a leader in the moral and educational interests of the community as ever he was if only he had with him his boon companions who formed a trinity of master minds in their day and generation that have made a indelible record of influence that will long live. He has for many years endeavored to retire from the practice of medicine, but he cannot refuse a call from an old-time friend. In the fifty-four years that he has practiced medicine the statement has never been disputed that he never refused to respond to a sick call because of financial reasons, and for over forty years his services were subject to call day or night in any kind of weather, ministering as we are wont to look back to the refreshing and inspiring days of the old century doctor. Dr. Foreman is worthy of all the praise that is this day being bestowed upon him by the community.

SICKNESS is a misfortune that threatens and generally visits, unasked, every man's door. DEATH is sure to "BUTT IN" sooner or later and claim ALL in sight. We don't like it—We can't help it—We grieve—We mourn—And sometimes desire to take issue with the wisdom of the Omnipotent who is represented in the REAPER.

In short, we display about as much judgment there as we do when we say, "I DISLIKE" or "I HATE" this one or that one—Possibly whose name

I may not even know—Simply because he or she is too small or too large—or because he or she likes water and I like beer (you don't say). Yes—or because she is too fair or too brown.

GOD MADE ALL TO SUIT HIMSELF, and quite truly He didn't consult your wishes. Had He done so your own personal description or ending would possibly be far different. How do I know? Because you are displeased with His works—Death to such a one is an "eye opener"—"Not my will but Thine, O Lord."

Every housewife in this territory should attend the special Factory Demonstration on Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges to be held at our store on THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, March 25-26 and 27. These ranges represent the latest improvement in kitchen appliances. You should see them demonstrated. Come! Taste the delicious baking, too.

Leonard High-Oven Ranges

BAKE WITHOUT THE "AKE"

There are in all eighteen styles of Leonard Hi-Oven Ranges. Some burn only coal or wood—others burn gas also. All have the convenient elevated oven that takes the "ake" out of bake—and there are many other work saving features.

Make Your Kitchen Pleasant

A Leonard Hi-Oven Range is a combination cooking range and heating stove. The same fire that does your cooking and baking heats your kitchen also. You can heat your dining room, too, if you wish. Easily holds fire over night—thus no fires to kindle.

A Model 250 Leonard Hi-Oven Range burns Gas, Coal or Wood

This range is three stoves combined in one—a heater, a coal or wood range and a gas range. In the winter you can burn coal or wood and do your heating, cooking and baking with one fuel. In the summer you can burn gas.

Reduce High Cost of Living

Do you realize the extravagance of using coal for heating and gas for cooking? Two fuels used where one fuel (coal or wood) with a Leonard Hi-Oven Range will accomplish both purposes. This means a saving of half the fuel. Then, too, there are many economical and palatable dishes that can be prepared in the winter when burning coal that cannot be prepared properly with gas.

From County Agent's Office

Pooling Wool—The wool growers of Illinois are planning to pool their wool again this year. Even in counties where the wool was not actually consigned to the warehouse at Chicago, a much better local price was paid as a result of the talk about pooling. Sacks for shipping wool will be scarce this season. In quantity wool sacks may now be had at 90c. Growers should figure on sacks holding 200 pounds instead of 300. We advise the use of paper twine in tying up fleeces at shearing time, and recommend that it be bought at the same time sacks are purchased.

Soybeans vs. Oats—A great many farmers have raised more oats in times past than they wished because it was the only crop that would fit into a rotation after corn. On one farm in Illinois they are using soybeans instead of oats with very satisfactory results. Soybeans are planted in the corn, and are shown for either hay or seed after corn, then followed by wheat in which is seeded clover. This means a legume on the land every year. What do you think of the plan?

The Hessian Fly—An examination of wheat fields reveals many flaxseeds on the ground near the plants they have killed. A rain or even a snow followed by warm weather will cause these to develop into the mature fly. The flies will lay their eggs in the surviving plants and will undoubtedly spread to fields not infested at present. We predict considerable damage from this source.

This Really Happened

"Hi, there! Can you give me a hand?" shouted a well known farmer to a man who was driving along a road by the field where the farmer was seeding wheat.

The man got out of his car and jumping the fence plunged through the soft, wet, black earth to the farmer's side. He found him engaged in a desperate effort to get one of his horses to its feet. There had been many days of heavy rain, and the field—plowed, harrowed and ready for seeding—was so soft that one of the horses had mired.

However, it was not long before the combined efforts of the two men got the horse out. But the animal lifted a hind foot in a nervous way and the farmer, running a gentle hand oling the leg, found that it had been rather badly strained.

"Isn't that tough luck!" he exclaimed. "Here I've just started seeding—I'm late now—and this ties me up. Can't get horses through this mud, and a hundred acres yet to seed. That's a clean loss of over three thousand dollars."

"Whole hundred acres soft like this?" asked the other man, with a glance across the field.

"Pretty much the same. Horses have a hard job to get along most anywhere. Feet just go right down," replied the farmer.

"Suppose I show you how to seed your hundred acres without horses, and save you that three thousand dollars. What would you say?"

"You're not joking are you? Name your price!" And there were tears in the farmer's eyes at the prospect of relief from what looked like a serious loss.

"Tomorrow morning I'll send you a tractor that will handle this job."

"How do you expect a tractor to work where horses can't?" asked the farmer.

"Well, if it doesn't work, I'll take the tractor back and it won't cost you a cent," said the other.

Well! It happened. The next morning a Wallis Tractor arrived and was put on the job. The 100 acres were seeded in a few days. For the Wallis with its light weight and reserve power pulled the seeder over ground where horses couldn't go—and the farmer was surprised how easily he managed it and how little it cost to run.

In fact he saved so much time that he plowed up and seeded an extra "40" he had not thought he would be able to get into crop that year.

And at threshing time the "40" turned in 20 bushels to the acre—800 bushels of wheat—which he sold for enough to pay cash in full for his Wallis Tractor. So his tractor cost him nothing, for his first crop increase paid for it.

The horses on that farm now have an easy time, for the Wallis does all the plowing, harrowing, drilling and other field work, besides all kinds of belt jobs such as threshing, silo filling, wood cutting, pumping water, grinding feed and many others.

"Now if I could just teach her to pick apples and hunt eggs she'd run the whole place," chuckled the delighted owner to an inquiring neighbor.

The above story is based upon facts received from an enthusiastic Wallis Tractor owner.

TRADING ON EXCHANGE

DULL AND IRREGULAR
(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, March 25.—Business on the stock exchange today was characterized by intervals of extreme dullness and irregular price changes, trading evidently being influenced by yesterday's sharp flurry in money. Greatest activity was manifested in the final hour, when further substantial advances on the money and their specialties lifted the list, rails, excepted to highest quotations of the day, a strong tone ruling.

Call loans opened and renewed at nine per cent, a rise of two per cent, advancing later to 12 per cent or two per cent under yesterday's maximum. Time money was quietly gathered, but in small supply, except for renewals. On foreign exchange the British rate advanced to $3.86 1/2 for demand bills, representing the high mark this year. Allied exchanges were irregular, also rates to Northern Europe.

General Motors maintained its reputation of an uncertain quantity, an early gain of nine points being followed by a reaction of 15 and a rally of 25, the final price of 384 representing a net gain of 18 points.

Stutz Motor continued to move against the shorts advancing to 282, a new high record and a gain of 34 points while Stromberg Carbueter, controlled by Stutz interests, shot up 18 points to 94 also a new maximum.

Stamps, equipment and oils joined in the late advance. Oil trading in bonds was relatively light most of the liberty issues and both classes of victory notes easing moderately. Railroad and industrial bonds also made nominal recessions. Total sales, per value, aggregated $11,200,000.

WEAKNESS DEVELOPS IN CORN MARKET

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, March 25.—Pro-nounced weakness developed in the corn market today owing largely to rumors that a maximum limit on trading allowable for any one interest would again be put into force. The close was nervous 1 1/2 to 3 1/4 net lower, with May $1.53 1/2 to $1.53 3/4 and July $1.48 1/2 to $1.48 3/4. Oats lost 1/2 to 2 1/2 to 2 1/4 and provisions 3/4 to $1.40. Gossip was current that 300,000 bushels would be restored as the greatest amount which the exchange rules would permit any concern to have open in current trades on the corn market. For some weeks there has been no maximum limit and it has been contended that unduly heavy speculation on the bull side has resulted. Another bearish factor was a prospect that a considerable amount of wheat which had been devoted to wheat would hereafter be used for carrying corn. Sharp declines in the value of hogs tended also to weaken the corn.
Oats paralleled corn.
Provisions were depressed by breaks in the hog market.
